Risk Control's Impact on Total Cost of Risk
Hospitality and Gaming Customers

The Brown & Brown Risk Control team understands the importance of our hospitality and gaming customers' dedication to establishing a highly sought-after place of employment that provides superior guest and visitor experiences. We aim to help significantly reduce your organization's total cost of risk, working with you to foster a culture of health, safety and security. This collaboration helps promote a healthier and more satisfied workforce and drive improvements in service quality and productivity.

Our Key Strategies:

- Data integrity: Interpret injury/illness and related data to identify opportunities for risk improvement and validate the data's accuracy to develop a strategic plan for future initiatives.
- Operational insight: Leverage our deep understanding of the hospitality and gaming industries to systematically analyze your overall operations, exposures and controls, focusing on your organization's unique needs.
- Customer-focused: We work with our customers at each level of the organization to help build, support and sustain an improved safety culture.
